

My Keystone Native Plants

Thank you for planting keystone native plants. These essential species support wildlife and form the backbone of our ecosystems. Without them, food webs break down—even if there's a high variety of other plants. By planting just one or two, you can help restore biodiversity!